DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-2, 4, 9, 11, 20-21 and 54-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1, 20-21 and 54-55 recite "an elongated slot", "said slot," "each said slot", "the slot", "each slot" or similar. It is not clear how many slots are required and which slot is being further defined by the recited language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 54-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EP 1048874.

EP 1048874 discloses all the limitations of the instant claims including: a first 42 and a second 46 annular braking surfaces jointly defining inner and outer circumferential surfaces and a central portion; a first surface slot (50 or 76) provided on the first annular braking surface having a length and a width; and a first opening (note figures 3-5) having a size (length or width) smaller than the length of the first surface slot, wherein all or a portion of the first opening being provided within the first slot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-2, 4 9, 11, 20-21 and 54-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Qian et al (US# 2001/0040077) in view of Stehl (US# 3809192).

Qian et al disclose brake rotor including: a first 14 and a second 22 annular braking surfaces jointly defining inner and outer circumferential surfaces and a central portion; and a first surface slot 34 provided on the first annular braking surface having a length and a width. Qian et al lack openings within the slots. Stehle discloses a similar rotor and further teaches openings to improve air holes. Also note that Stehle teaches the openings in the same location as the grooves of Qian et al (figure 9 of Stehle). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include openings in the disc of Qian et al as taught by Stehle to combine the benefits of a slotted surface with the improved air circulation of openings. It further would have been obvious to locate the holes in the grooves or slots of Qian et al as Stehle teaches the openings in the same location and one of ordinary skill in the art appreciates the desire to maintain braking surface area for proper heat dissipation and braking characteristics.

Regarding claim 2, see figure 3 of Qian et al.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Regarding claims 54-55, the language does not require the length of the elongate slot to extend from the central portion to the outer periphery.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
